A True Coastal Treasure For Every Type

Golf. If the word alone isn’t enough to evoke varied emotions in those who love the game, a single step onto our storied stretch of coastal real estate, accompanied by a salty breeze and an unsurpassed view of immaculate fairways, certainly will. Small wonder, with the game’s rich heritage so entwined with the seaside. In NC’s Brunswick Islands, the game seems to embody the ideal envisioned by those who endure its occasional humiliations to share in its heady triumphs. With more than 30 of the world’s finest courses, these barrier islands and their accompanying mainland have become a place where those who revel in the heritage, the play and the camaraderie of a game, a hole or a shot well-played can find their fulfillment. And, that is what makes NC’s Golf Coast a true treasure.
Play The Game Against A Backdrop

Volume. Variety. Climate. Terrain. All of the essentials have aligned here to create a nearly endless succession of challenges for you and your fellow golf enthusiasts. The coastal landscape of waterways and marshes in NC’s Brunswick Islands is the ideal place to reaffirm your love of the game over a little friendly competition or a meeting at the 18-hole office. Mild weather year-round makes for an all-season golf climate where you’ll find playing conditions to your liking almost any time of the year. Good thing, because with, at last count, 567 holes, you’ll want to schedule a few trips to the coast to meet the challenge. Select your course by yardage, rating or even type of greens, and take full advantage of the golf packages offered by most of the Brunswick Islands courses. And, don’t be surprised when you discover that some of the best golf on the Grand Strand is actually in Brunswick County.
It’s a special place that can so delightfully combine a 45-mile stretch of pristine barrier islands with lush maritime forests, expansive marshes and inlets, and the majestic Intracoastal Waterway to create a terrain primed for the most alluring course designs in all of golf. The game’s legends would agree. Palmer, Byrd, Maples, Jones, Cate, Couples, Robbins – they all came and left their footprints on the land, in the shape of one breathtakingly beautiful hole after another. Gentle sea breezes blow through long-needled pines and windswept oaks, beckoning you to come play at as fine an offering of coastal golf as you are likely to find anywhere. With more than 120 miles of fairways, your options for enjoying the destination are seemingly endless, as are the opportunities to reconnect with fellow golf friends or family time and time again.

Believe it or not, even the most avid player needs an occasional change of scenery. NC’s Brunswick Islands has more than a few to choose from. Forty-five miles of broad, inviting beaches set the stage for a world of off-the-course activity. From a boat ride through the marshes, creeks and inlets that are teeming with wildlife, to an up-close look at the natural world by way of kayak or paddleboard. Local outfitters can set you up and guide you through this world behind the beaches. Make plans to cast your line from one of five ocean fishing piers, or right off the beach. Or, partner up with any of our local fishing charters to try your hand at reeling in the game fish that live near shore, offshore or far out in the Gulf Stream. You may discover a talent or even a passion as big as your love of the great game.
Work Up An Appetite, And Do It On Purpose

In NC’s Brunswick Islands, you’ll have a lot of great golf to pack into your day, and you’re sure to end your game with a healthy appetite. Good. Our reputation for a delicious meal is as true as ours for the game. If a trip to our stretch of coastline conjures in you a vision of golden-delicious seafood, you’re not alone. Home to Calabash, the Seafood Capital of the World, you’ll find all the fresh seafood you could want in NC’s Brunswick Islands.
Or, choose from a variety of cuisine – American, fusion or international – to satisfy any palate. Our own variety of oysters burst with a unique, salty flavor. Pop into a local brewery or visit a charming winery. Waterfront dining options offer a meal with a view that even gives the flavor a run for its money. After you sink your last putt, you’ll find something exquisite to sink your teeth into.
There’s nothing quite like finding a place you come to know as your home away from home. When that place combines the natural beauty of the coast with a world of golf in a single destination and adds in the most comfortable variety of accommodations, a golfer’s dream is realized. In NC’s Brunswick Islands, we’ve managed to harness that special something that brings both golfers and families back year in and year out. Whatever you’re searching for in accommodations, from a charming villa right on the fairway to the perfect vacation home to welcome a group of any size home after a long day on the links, we’ve got it here for you. Our professional golf packagers are ready to help line up all the details, from the excitement of the play to the relaxation of the stay. From setting up tee times to finding courses close to the place you’re staying so you can spend more time lining up your first drive, we’ll tend to your every need. You’ll come with a passion for the game and leave with a love of a place. This place. NC’s Golf Coast.

Many of the great names in golf have worked their magic here. But a couple of those beloved architects who have left their mark on our courses have found that even more than a golfer’s dream to play, NC’s Brunswick Islands is a fine place to stay. Tim Cate and Rick Robbins are true local treasures. At NC’s Golf Coast, The Courses Aren’t

Many of the great names in golf have worked their magic here. But a couple of those beloved architects who have left their mark on our courses have found that even more than a golfer’s dream to play, NC’s Brunswick Islands is a fine place to stay. Tim Cate and Rick Robbins are true local treasures. Cate, an understudy of Willard Byrd and renowned for his sustainable golf course designs that incorporate the natural terrain and an artful challenge, maintains that, “Unlike South Carolina, this is a unique region with a bit of roll to the land which provides some wind break off the water and opportunities for interesting layouts.” Perhaps it is his local roots that give him an edge when it comes to his knack for beautifully designing award-winning courses along the North Carolina coast. For Robbins, golf course design is in his blood after a lifetime of learning from family members and greats such as Jack Nicklaus. And now, he has left his own famed footprint in the Brunswick Islands and, with that, has decided to call NC’s Golf Coast home.
